

Letter of Introduction

Oceania University of Medicine, based in Samoa, delivers part of its medical degree program through an e-learning model where students can remain in their communities around the world and access our study materials and information resources through the internet. Similarly we have an international network of online tutors delivering this portion of our program.

In these instances our students/staff sometimes wish to take advantage of a local library to provide them with a study space.

If the person presenting this letter has a current Student/Staff ID card from the Oceania University of Medicine we would appreciate your library providing them with external user membership.

Any library fee you charge for this service will be paid by the individual. (There is a system in place for OUM to reimburse these fees to a set maximum).

Thank you for agreeing to allow access to your facilities.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads 'Else Paeglis'.

Else Paeglis

Medical eLibrarian
Oceania University of Medicine
<http://www.oceaniamed.org>